

NO - FEAR DISSERTATION<sup>TM</sup> ROADMAP

Congratulations on passing your comprehensive exam!
You are now officially a doctoral candidate.

The only thing that stands between you and your doctorate now is your dissertation (and your defense).
When you started on this journey, we promised to support you every step of the way – and we intend to keep that promise.

Working with your committee chair, you'll decide the order and the timeline for completion.

To fulfill the credit hour requirement for the doctorate degree, you will need to complete ----- credit hours. You will do this by registering for DISS 9100 for 1-4 credit hours for every term you plan to be enrolled.

Your first step, will be to meet with your dissertation committee and review this timeline for completion.

First Meeting with Dissertation Committee

Dissertation Element	Deadline	Academic Term	Registered Credit Hours